OVERNIGHT WARMING ZONE OPEN FOR PROTECTION FROM COLD City of Stockton Stribley Community Center

STOCKTON, Calif. – Overnight temperatures are expected to reach freezing or near freezing this week and through the weekend. Beginning Tuesday, December 13, 2022, the City of Stockton will open a Warming Zone for nighttime protection from the cold through the night of Sunday, December 18, 2022:

- Stribley Community Center – 1760 E. Sonora St., Stockton, CA 95205

Check-in begins at 8:00 p.m. and check-out is by 7:00 a.m. Overnight resting space will be offered in the gymnasium area, which is heated, restrooms will be open, and water and snacks will be provided.

The Warming Zone is open to anyone who may be without adequate heat or is unsheltered. Face coverings, which will be provided at the door, are mandatory while at the community center. All those staying must confirm that they are free of all COVID-19 symptoms by reviewing and completing a checklist.

Stribley Community Center will be open during the night beginning tonight, December 13, and be available through overnight Sunday, with check-out the morning of Monday, December 19. Additional availability will be based on weather conditions and usage.
